Response to your report concerning collision RJ 2020-01

We have received your report concerning a collision between a shunting movement and a passenger train at Helsingborg operations site on 7 February 2019.

In this report, you recommend that we, as a railway company, ensure in an appropriate way that our train drivers understand when to send an emergency message and how they go about formulating and sending such a message.

As of the annual continuous professional development programme for 2018, Transdev Sverige AB has continually had GSM-R and emergency messages on the agenda. For the continuous professional development programme for 2020, the subject will be covered specifically during the practical part of this training programme.

We thank you for a well-executed investigation report.
